

Health Narratives to Support Social Work Practice (2 CEU)

Through first-person health narratives, we will explore how to support and strengthen social work practice.

These narratives will uplift voices of those who have traditionally been marginalized and silenced in dominant culture and reveal how privilege functions.

Participants will enhance skills of critical self-reflection, deep listening, and analysis of social inequities.

Member: $20
Non-member: $35
Student: $10

Friday,
August 12

1 - 3 pm PT | Virtual

Attendees will learn about and apply traditional humanities approaches to:

- Deepen an ability to be present and actively listen to clients/patients
- Expand and further develop self-awareness and reflexivity skills
- Develop critical reading and analysis skills

Sarah C. Reed,
PhD, MSW, MPH

Contact: mespitia.naswca@socialworkers.org